

Website Proposal

The topic of the website that I will be working on is About Qatar. Before I move on to explain more about this website, you must have a background of why I chose this topic. I am from Pakistan, but I have lived in Qatar my whole childhood and almost all my teenage years were also spent in Qatar. I am 19 years old, and I have lived in Qatar for 19 years. I recently came to US for my further education. Now you may have an idea of why I chose this topic.

My website will contain information about famous places to visit in Qatar, famous history places, how to work in Qatar, famous companies to work for in Qatar, how to get an education in Qatar, famous universities to apply for in Qatar, and so forth. It will have 4 html pages. The first one will be the home page and it will contain some introduction to Qatar and its traditions and culture and will also have links to the other three pages. The other three pages will contain information about famous places to visit in Qatar, how to work in Qatar, and how to get an education in Qatar.

All pages will contain links to the other three pages. The images that I will be using for the Website will be my own and from some free resources for images. All the images used will have references and any text, other than my own, will also be referenced.
